JOYCE'S TASTELESS SOLUTION Of Conaiba! 114 Chambers Street, N. Y.

TO THE MEDICAL PROFESSION.

CENTLEMEN.—The valuable medicinal properties of Balsam Copaiba have long been recognized by the faculty, but the great disadvantage arising from its nauseous taste has hitherte prevented its administration in many diseases for which it is particularly adapted. The usual "modus operands" of prescribing it, either in the form of an Emulsion or Gelatiaous Capsules, has not been found satisfactory, being liable to some objection, either from the difficulty experienced by some individuals in the degluttion of the Capsule or the small quantity of Copaiba genthe Capsule or the small quantity of Copaiba gen-erally found in the Emulsion.

Joyce's tasteless solution of Copaiba is the most unique preparation yet introduced to the medical profession, as it contains 50 per cent. of the pure-t Para Copaiba, without taste or smell, and at same time mixes clearly and freely with water, and is pronounced by the most eminent physicians and analytical chemists in the old and new worlds to contain all the medicinal proper-ties of Balsam Copaiba without its disagreable characteristics.

It is an efficient preparation for all diseases of the mucous membranes, and particularly Gonorheæa, Leucorrhæa, Gleet, paintul hemorrhoida affections, and in chronic irritation of the bladder Sold in Washington wholesale, by J. N. CALLAN,

REGULATIONS CONCERNING HACKS PLATFORM OF THE DEMO- upon the Democracy of this country, as the CRATIC PARTY AS ADOPTED party of the people, to uphold and maintain the rights of every State, and thereby the union BY THE CINCINNATI CON-VENTION. Resolved, That the American Democracy place their trust in the intelligence, the patriotism and the discriminating justice of the American people.

Resolved, That we regard this as a distinctive feature of our creed which we are proud to maintain before the world as a great element in a form of government springing from and of the many, and by a vigilant and constant adherence to those principles and compromises of the Constitution—which are broad enough to embrace and uphold the Union as it is, and the Union as it should be—in the full expanupheld by a popular will; and we contrast it with the creed and practice of Federalism, under whatever name or form, which seeks to palsy the vote of the constituent, and which conceives no imposture too monstrous for the popular credulity.

Resolved, Therefore, That entertaining these views, the Democratic party of the Union, through their delegates assembled in a general convention of the States, convening together in a spirit of concord, of devotion to the doctrines and faith of a free representative government, and appealing to their fellow citizens for the rectitude of their intentions, renew and re-assert before the American people the declarations of principles avowed by them, when, on former occasions, in general convention, they presented their candidates for the popular

1. That the federal government is one of liberal powers, derived solely from the Consti-tution, and the grants of power made therein ought to be strictly construed by all the departments and agents of the government; and that it is inexpedient and dangerous to exercise doubtful constitutional powers.

2. That the Constitution does not confer upon the general government the power to commence and carry on a general system of internal improvements.

3. That the Constitution does not confer authority upon the federal government, directly or indirectly, to assume the debts of the several States, contracted for local internal improvements, or other State purposes; nor would such assumption be just or expedient.

4. That justice and sound policy forbid the federal government to foster one branch of industry to the detriment of any other, or to cherish the interests of one portion to the injury of another portion of our common country; that every citizen and every section of the country has a right to demand and insist upon an equality of rights and privileges, and a complete and ample protection of persons and property from domestic violence and foreign aggression.

5. That it is the duty of every branch of the Government to enforce and practice the most rigid economy in conducting our public affairs, and that no more revenue ought to be raised than is required to defray the necessary expen-penses of the Government, and for gradual but certain extinction of the public debt.

6. That Congress has no power to charter a National Bank; that we believe such an institution one of deadly hostility to the best interest of our country, dangerous to our republican in-stitutions and the liberties of the ople, and calculated to place the business of the country within the control of a concentrated money power, and above the laws and will of the people; and that the results of Democratic legis-lation in this and all other financial measures upon which issues have been made between their soundness, safety and utility in all business pursuits. 7. That the separation of the moneys of the Government from all banking institutions is in-dispensable for the safety of the founds of the Government and the rights of the people.

8. That the liberal principles embodied by Jefferson in the Declaration of Independence, and sanctioned in the Constitution, which makes ours the land of liberty, and the asylum of the oppressed of every nation, have ever been car-dinal principles in the Democratic faith, and every attempt to abridge the privilege of becoming citizens and owners of soil among us ought to be resisted with the same spirit which swept the alien and sedition laws from our statute book. 9. That Congress has no power under the Constitution to interfere with or control the domestic institutions of the several States, and that all such States are the sole and proper judges of everything appertaining to their own affairs not prohibited by the Constitution; that all efforts of the abolitionists or others made to induce Congress to interfere with questions and maintain the rights of every State, and of slavery, or to take incipient steps in relation | thereby to sustain and advance among us conthereto, are calculated to lead to the most alarming and dangerous consequences, and that all such efforts have an inevitable tendency
